This house is called Casa de Burro which is house of the donkey and thats exactly what this property used to be. Unfortunately the donkey has passed on and this house has been transformed into a compact 1 bedroom house with large lounge, fully fitted kitchen and dining room. The house is situated on a 1000m plot and also on this plot is a 3 bedroom self contained apartment which also has its own lounge, kitchen and bathroom. The property is situated in a rural location about 10 minutes from the town of Taberno, which has all the amenities youd expect to find in a town like bars, banks, shops, schools and leisure facilities. The house has lots of character and even has a hot tub which will be left with the property. Surrounded by mountain views this house would suit an extended family or someone wanting to let out one of the properties whilst living in the other.
