This beautiful, recently renovated cave house is situated in Gor, not far from the town of Baza. The largest town in the province of Granada, Baza is rich in Iberian-Roman and Moorish history with many monuments still being around today including the Arabic baths and the ancient fortress of Alcazaba. Baza is ideal for tourists with a wide range of activities such as hiking, mountain biking, sightseeing, lots of bars and restaurants and unusual places to stay such as traditional cave houses, which are being used as hotels and B & Bs. Various ferias and fiestas are held throughout the year of which Cascamorros is the biggest and most colourful, taking place in September. Baza also benefits from all amenities that you would expect to find including schools, hospitals, theatres and shops as well as the weekly market which offers locally grown produce as well as everything you would need for a house and family. This wonderful property has 3 bedrooms and a bathroom, as well as a separate lounge, dining room and kitchen.
